

“This is a respectful and insightful approach to introducing Catholics to Islam. It skillfully uses Catholic cultural and religious experience to make Muslims’ beliefs, traditions and practices understandable. The book provides healthy guidelines for discussion and the questions at the end of each chapter invite good reflection and conversation.

Who Is My Neighbor? is concise, readable, timely - and very much needed.”

“Congratulations on this very carefully structured and clearly written resource. It is most helpful for the Bishops Commission to have access to it, and to be able to recommend it to our colleagues and parishes.”

“As a Muslim, I am very appreciative of the wonderful work my friend Connie has done in this beautiful book. She has undertaken to fully understand the beliefs and practices of Muslims and present them to the Catholic community in an objective and easy to understand manner. She provides nicely flowing and practical steps on how to connect, communicate and build bridges of understanding and friendship between Muslim and Christian neighbors and colleagues. I highly recommend this book.”

“I found Who Is My Neighbor? to be an exceptionally rich resource for Catholics and others in the question to confront their fears with the truth. History, tradition, theology and human experience come together to speak to the Catholic tradition and that of our Muslim neighbors. Much is given to be wrestled with and much will be gained by those who are willing to engage.
